2004/09

To consider COVID-19 support for the Community

Cllr Coppin had circulated some notes and points for discussion prior to the meeting he felt that the initial step was how the Council identifies those parishioners that were in need. It was noted that there were process in place with both the County and District Councils to identify and immediately support the most vulnerable in the community and the Parish Council would need to identify a way to support those that require assistance with shopping and prescription requests etc. once identified.

The shop had been asking people if they required any help or had any issues as and when people have been in contact, but a helpline number would need to be identified. It was noted that discussions had been held with the Combe Martin volunteers and they have a helpline number which is manned daily from 10am – 5pm, the volunteers would be happy to take the calls, record the details and pass onto a volunteer in Berrynarbor but a coordinator of volunteers would need to be provided to Combe Martin and volunteers for Berrynarbor identified.

How this number would be promoted was discussed and it was agreed to post the number on as many platforms as possible and to produce a leaflet aimed at those who know of venerable or sled-isolating people and to ask the pub and shop if they can put some leaflets in with the meals they deliver. It was agreed that Cllr Johns would design and print a leaflet and Cllr Latham would produce a list of all local suppliers delivering (this list would be kept under review and updated as necessary).

It was agreed to provide Cllr Bacon and Joyce's numbers as coordinators. Cllr Johns would collate volunteers in Berrynarbor and was happy to provide telephone help.

Members discussed collection and deliver of prescriptions from the pharmacies, it was noted that the shop was happy to take deliveries of prescription as was Cllr Bacon, Cllr Coppin would speak to the two pharmacies in Ilfracombe.

Members discussed the practicalities of gas and electric top ups that residents might require, and Cllr Bacon would speak to the shop and Cllr Coppin would speak to Sue's.

Members asked the Clerk to put links to useful websites and information on the Parish Council's website.

Members thanked Cllr Coppin for all his work to date on this matter.

Cllr Coppin was concerned at the way the Parish Council had been "paralyzed" from conducting its business until the Government changed the law to allow virtual meetings and felt that it was important that the Parish Council did not find itself in this position again. As part of this he suggested that a running commentary of lessons learnt should be kept which should be rolling list and the first of which should be to consider a scheme of delegation.

Following discussion with reference to the continuation of Council business during this period and acknowledgement that decisions might need to be made quickly in between Council meetings it was resolved, with no votes to the contrary, to delegate authority to the Parish Clerk to make decisions on the day-to-day running of all aspects of the Parish Council and any items that may arise during this crisis.

- Cllr Joyce asked if the Council had an adopted policy for the reading of anonymous letters at Parish Council meetings, as she did not feel it was appropriate if correspondence is not attributed and there is no right of reply.
